

Queen's Daughters Plan Annual Ball To Raise Funds For Charity Work

EL PASO has just cause for the pride it feels in the accomplishments during the past year of the work of the Queen's Daughters. This organization, of national scope, is known everywhere for its benevolence. Without regard to creed or caste, work of every philanthropic nature is done. Added to their charities they have, since the outbreak of the war, spared nothing in the wonderful work done among the soldiers and sailors. This work, with its foundation at home, has spread to trench and camp, healing and comforting in its way.

Plans are being made by this organization for the annual charity ball, which is to be given on January 3, for the purpose of adding more funds to the coffers, and so accomplish a long-continued good. The plan was a party Christmas favor. After the refreshments were served, the gift box was opened, each guest receiving a gift from its interesting depths. Those who enjoyed the afternoon included Mrs. C. H. Hays, Mrs. C. L. Butler, Mrs. W. H. Day, Mrs. J. A. Carr, Mrs. A. Graham, Miss Grace Allen, her mother and grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Bacher, Mrs. W. A. Williams, Mrs. R. H. Mitchell, Mrs. W. A. Thomas, Mrs. W. A. Young, Mrs. M. T. Moffitt, Mrs. S. D. Cobbs, Mrs. D. W. McVey. This list included wives and mothers of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

The Red Triangle Circle was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. S. C. Halloway at her home in the Melchior apartment building. The reception rooms were artistically decorated with Christmas bells and holly. A number of guests were present. Accompanying each plate, on which a dainty salad course was served, was a pretty Christmas favor. After the refreshments were served, the gift box was opened, each guest receiving a gift from its interesting depths. Those who enjoyed the afternoon included Mrs. C. H. Hays, Mrs. C. L. Butler, Mrs. W. H. Day, Mrs. J. A. Carr, Mrs. A. Graham, Miss Grace Allen, her mother and grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Bacher, Mrs. W. A. Williams, Mrs. R. H. Mitchell, Mrs. W. A. Thomas, Mrs. W. A. Young, Mrs. M. T. Moffitt, Mrs. S. D. Cobbs, Mrs. D. W. McVey. This list included wives and mothers of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.
